Bruce County's New Website is Ready to be Discovered!

Walkerton, Ontario: Bruce County Council officially launched the redesigned website today.

“Our new website is here and it’s been refreshed with the public user in mind,” announced Warden Mitch Twolan.

Users will immediately notice:

- The infusion of the new Bruce County Brand through pictures & language.
- Streamlined menus - designed on how users might find and look for information.
- A powerful yet simple search feature.
- A “Talk to Us” feature for the public, which is a link to share “Bruce Ideas” or forward concerns, compliments or complaints.
- Updated webcasts of council meetings and coordinated agendas and meeting minutes.
- A whole host of smaller but impactful changes, all to make the user’s experience of the Bruce County site that much better!

- Connect with our Explore the Bruce, Business to Bruce, Spruce the Bruce, our Libraries & Museum websites

“Redesigning a website requires innovative thinking and a curiosity to understand how our public naturally navigates through the linked information,” explains Kelley Coulter CAO for Bruce County. “This is an inspiring day. The new website is a showcase to the public about Bruce County; the place and the organization,” shares Coulter.
